practical experience

Robyn Kantor is a Tax Manager in ENSafrica's Tax department. She specialises in international tax, with a focus on transfer pricing. This includes the development and implementation of transfer pricing policies and recommendations, drafting transfer pricing compliance documentation and economic analyses, including benchmarking studies, as well as assisting with transfer pricing audits.

Robyn has assisted clients with their transfer pricing planning and compliance requirements across various industries, including telecommunications, mining, automotive, packaging, manufacturing, reinsurance and retail.

Her experience further includes advising multinational companies on cross-border tax consequences, such as international tax issues, exchange control regulations, as well as thin capitalisation implications.
