

Prencess Mohlahlo
Executive | employment
pmohlahlo@ENSafrica.com

"no boundaries"

practical experience

Prencess Mohlahlo is an Executive in ENSafrica's Employment practice.

She has acted for clients in a variety of industries including mining, ICT, media, metals, financial services, construction

She has experience in:

- Drafting and revising company policies
- Drafting and revising employment contracts
- Initiating and chairing internal disciplinary enquiries
- Appearing at the CCMA on behalf of clients to argue preliminary points and run arbitrations
- Drafting applications, including review and condonation applications and other court documents, which include heads of argument
- Drafting statements of cases to refer matters to the Labour Court
- Investigating misconduct and compiling reports
- Drafting notices for employees to attend disciplinary enquiries
- Advising on various employment topics and related matters
- Drafting retrenchment notices and assisting in the retrenchment process
- Providing general employee relations support
- Assisting in managing trade union relationships
- Providing training on employment matters

qualifications

LLB (University of Johannesburg)

LLM